AEGIS Remote Monitoring – June 26, 2024

00:07:15 Thundering Bee-Eater: Soaring Wings, this is Bee-Eater. We're approaching the illegal mining site now. Visual confirmation on target area. Everyone stay sharp.

00:07:21 Grey Mousebird: Copy that, Bee-Eater. Scanning the perimeter. I've got movement—looks like workers, but something feels off.

00:07:27 Cunning Turaco: Roger, Mousebird. I'll take a closer look. Going in stealth.

00:07:32 Deadly Dove: Be careful, Turaco. We don't know what we're dealing with here. Maintain visual contact.

00:07:38 Cunning Turaco: Understood, Dove. Switching to silent mode... I'm in. The miners look terrified, but they're not armed. Something else is definitely wrong here.

00:07:45 Thundering Bee-Eater: Keep your eyes peeled, Turaco. Everyone else, fan out and prepare for engagement. We'll hit them hard and fast if necessary.

00:07:52 Grey Mousebird: Heads up, team. I've got high winds coming in from the east. This isn't normal weather. Could be Storm Bringer.

00:07:58 Deadly Dove: Affirmative. All units, brace for possible wind interference. This could be a setup.

00:08:03 Thundering Bee-Eater: Turaco, any sign of hostile forces?

00:08:07 Cunning Turaco: Negative on visual, but I'm picking up strange energy readings. This could be a trap.

00:08:11 Grey Mousebird: Winds are intensifying! I've lost stable footing—everyone, adjust positions!

00:08:16 Thundering Bee-Eater: Hold steady, Mousebird! Dove, cover Mousebird's position. Turaco, fall back to the main group. We need to regroup and assess.

00:08:22 Deadly Dove: Copy that. Moving to support Mousebird. Turaco, hurry!

00:08:27 Storm Bringer: (unidentified transmission) Welcome to your demise, Soaring Wings. The winds obey my command. Prepare to be scattered!
